Press Release – February 2003

Future Physical Present : CLUSTER

Friday 21st February 2003

Colchester Arts Centre. Cluster Club Night.

9pm - 2am. Entry: £5 Box Office: 01206 500900

Marshall Jefferson's at it again. When it comes to imagination, creativity and foresight, Marshall's the daddy. That's why he's joining a whole host of other gifted individuals at Cluster, a specially created club night mixing a diversity of music styles with digital performance. Expect a cutting edge blend from international DJs, VJs and MJ's (Movement Jockeys). As well as the best dance music from Chicago's Godfather of house, you'll get to experience the mind-expanding work of:

FRANKIE THE ROBOT – the animated robot mixing from a digital collection, AMBIENTTV.NET (Mukul) - Asian underground and contemporary minimalism, PEOPLE LIKE US audio/visual commission, VJ/VISUALS around themes of body, technology, science and environment from RAYA (London), 2BIT TV (Norwich), Stanza (London), Catherine Watling (Cambridge) plus CELLBYTES - live telematic bytes of dance/performance.

Cluster will also feature CODE ZEBRA www.codezebra.net

Sara Diamond Live Chat.

A chance to see a radical new chat and gaming environment in action and talk online.

Cluster is part of the BIO-TECH AND ECO-TECH NETWORK EXCHANGE EVENTS. If you're interested in exploring the possibilities of technology in relation to the human body and the natural world, check out www.futurephysical.org for more information.

Cluster is a shinkansen production in collaboration with Future Physical (shinkansen/East England Arts), London Arts and Groovy Gecko Co-produced and hosted in collaboration with Colchester Arts Centre as part of the Future Physical BIO & ECO-TECH events in Feb'03, with firstsite and Signals Media Arts.
